PORT ORCHARD — With an influx of counted ballots on Wednesday added to the primary election vote totals in Kitsap County, the only race appearing to be closely contested got a little closer.

In that race, candidates for the South Kitsap School District's Board of Directors District 5 seat edged closer to each other in the vote count. Challenger Jeff Daily continued to lead incumbent Greg Wall for the seat by a margin of 36.7 percent to 34 percent. Jill A Boltz trailed at 28.8 percent.

Initial returns on Tuesday night after the mail-in deadline for ballots had passed, Daily led by a margin of 37.5 percent to 33.1 percent over Wall. Boltz had a percentage total of 29.1 percent.

The vote percentages for the candidates seeking the SKSD District 2 directorship remained steady, with John R. Berg leading Glenly Compton by nearly 1,000 votes.

As of Wednesday night, 21.7 percent (or 20,205 voters) of Kitsap County's 93,312 registered voters living in districts with primary races cast ballots.
